

This Too Shall Pass

Giti Tyagi

A bed of thorns, hostile forces when act,
All hopes, all courage, all recourse failed,
All seems lost, all appears drowned,
Down in the ocean deep, sorrows profound!

All odds, all obstacles as if showered upon,
When struck with hardships, impediments abound,
The purpose lose, the being misled,
Obscured and vague, the soul seems lost!

Overcome by the burden of the passing years,
Slipping time as sand in a tightened fist,
Moments of digression, reason lost,
All courage failed, a burdened heart!

Let no hurdle never leave us at dismay,
Let the faith in thy spirits show the way,
A shimmering candle an aura holds,
A sudden bliss, a gleaming hope!

Manifest the force Divine deep within,
Cast a light with alacrity filled,
Exuberant enlightened soul thus hails,
'This Too Shall Pass' the eternal truth prevails!

Third Person Bionote About Giti Tyagi:

Giti Tyagi is an Editor (Muse India), Creative Artist, International Author & Poetess, Book Reviewer and Translator from Karnal, India. A Senior Lecturer and an Educational Consultant, Giti Tyagi's stories, articles and poetry have been published in reputed magazines, journals, ebooks- Devour: Art and Lit Canada, Parousia Magazine, Muse India, Call Beyond.

Editor of 'Beyond Corona: The Silver Lining' and the Author of 'Priceless Pearls', 'The Ascent of A New Dawn' and 'Crossroads & Other Stories' Giti Tyagi's much appreciated poems and stories have been winning hearts of the readers of all age groups. She has won several poetry and creative story writing competitions and is an extremely popular story writer for reputed children magazines.

Giti Tyagi was honoured in 2019 for her contributions in the literary world.