New Unloyal Replacing Old Royal

Sahaj Sabharwal
Jammu city, Jammu and Kashmir, India

Today is a world full of modern technologies due to great development in the field of science. Scientists are doing lots of hard work to create something new which can be beneficial for the world. After every new research, for the verification of that particular discovery, tests are done so that it can be released and available for use, thereafter. And after the tests on that discovery if it is passed and approved by all the scientists and researchers and works well as supposed and have very less side effects or drawbacks, then it is provided to the common people for safe use.

But with the development of new technologies, the old technologies are being replaced and are avoided. In fact, the new discoveries which are done are done considering the old postulates and scientific laws. That means, primary information is the base for the advanced discoveries. Even the cultures and traditions too have a change after the existence of new technology.

In the ancient times when there was no internet technology, people used to send their messages by handwritten letters to their friends or relatives. But, now a days, people use emails or other online media applications to communicate with each other. No doubt, it is easier, cheaper, safe and more comfortable but the handwritten postcards are really neglected and our coming generation will never consider it. The message related to love, affection and feelings which are now sent through simple chat, really don't show a physically heart touching effect.

But if the same message is sent by post having handwritten text, the reader will really feel that the person has consumed the time of his busy life schedule in writing that message and if it will contain the handmade drawing in it too , it will really touch the heart in a more effective way.

For example:- If a hostel student and his mother are living far away from each other, want to communicate with each other and show real love, then there are two options, first is calling or chatting online & other is using old method ie. by sending a handwritten message. If the Child prefer to send message through online chat regarding his heart feeling and using emojis and stickers to express, it will touch her heart but if prefer to send through hand written feelings by scribbling pencil or pen on paper and instead of using sticker, drawing a handmade painting or sketch, will show his creativity and mother will feel the thoughts by touching and feeling the handmade creativity with hands and it will show the physical thoughts and affection of that child. That's why old technology is really royal.

Not only this, but the writers too write directly in notepad or somewhere else without writing firstly by hand on a physical paper. The old songs which are really different and melodious. This type of thing is not present in the new songs. Now a days, the new songs made are mostly remake of old song. This is because the old, royal songs have that lyrics which sounds great and those features are rarely seen in the new songs. Even the physical dictionary booklet which is rarely used now a days to search word meanings is totally replaced by the online dictionary.

Due to this advancement of technology only the students are able to study online and are provided with live facilities too. But alone online study is not beneficial, it is helpful along with physical teacher in most of the cases.

A physical teacher can sit with a student and can observe his problems and drawbacks and can help him to solve his difficulties. It is also a old, royal method of learning. While using internet e-learning facility, students face many problems like weak internet connection. That's why, under this category, new technology is not loyal to students. So, old, classroom programs are more beneficial.

The farmer, now a days, use artificial unloyal fertilisers and pesticides, which are are beneficial for crops but not humans. In the olden times, farmers only preferred fertilisers made from the organic matter which was royal and rich in nutrients too with no side effects and beneficial for humans.

Moreover, people now a days, are wearing dresses which are just good for show off, but not comfortable for wearing but best in look only. These costumes are used less for covering body but for physical good looking. And people are unaware of seasons and cultures but wear those dresses which look unique and attractive from outside with no other properties. In this way, the new dresses are non durable and hence not loyal to anyone as compared to culture promoting, royal old style, durable and comfortable clothes.

Not only this, even the food made with old equipment has real luscious taste, which is not in the food made with new electronic equipment.

For example:- A roadside food stall using clay oven to cook indian bread has a really better, royal taste and flavour as compared to food made by high quality branded equipment in 5 star hotels. As brand is not everything but local with good royal quality is well appreciated.

That's why, in this new modern world, unloyal new is replacing royal old. This imperial old which is not less than gold and can never be depleted permanently.
